whaler, under sail, is a rather rare photo for this era of the square rigged whaler which ran from the mid-1800's to the turn of the century and ended with the ill fated voyage of the "Wanderer" on the rocks of Cuttyhunk in 1924. New Bedford whaling finally came to a close with the voyage of the "Manta" on the Atlantic grounds in 1925.

Her second voyage began August 29,
1882. She was commanded by Captain

North Pacific and Arctic Oceans. These voyages were of one year duration: the whaler sailing in December and returning to San Francisco the following November.

On these Arctic voyages she was commanded by the following skippers: Thuman, Smith, Winslow, Corrigan, Cleveland, Smith, Macomber, McInnis and Porter.

Her 13th voyage in command of Captain Porter was of four years duration. She sailed March 15, 1894 and the Wanderer returned to San Francisco, October 14, 1898. Four winters the vessel had spent frozen in off Herschell Island in the Arctic Ocean. The result of this long voyage was seven whales.

The Wanderer remained in port after this voyage, and Edwin L. Griffiths, who had been her agent for the last four years, sold his interests to A. R. Nelson.

April 14, 1900, the whaler was withdrawn and she went into the merchant service. It is quite probable that she carried supplies to Nome, Alaska, for the Klondike miners.

back home around Cape Horn and arrived at New Bedford September 4, 1904, after an absence of 22 years. Her catch on this voyage was 820 barrels of sperm oil.

After 1904, New Bedford was the home port of the Wanderer, and all subsequent voyages were made from this port. The whaler sailed on 23 voyages in all, and was commanded by 22 different skippers. Since 1904, her captains have been: Shockley, Enos, Reed, Higgins, Jenkins, McKenzie, Mosher, Antone T. Edwards, Lewis, Joseph and John Edwards.

The Wanderer returned in 1917 from a four year's voyage, under command of Captain Antone T. Edwards, with a cargo of 6200 barrels of oil; the largest voyage to her credit, and perhaps the largest in number of barrels of oil in the history of whaling.

Good luck had seemed to follow the Wanderer in her career as a whaler, although once in 1912, she was attacked by a wounded whale. On August 24, 1912, under command of Captain Lester A. Mosher, the bark was about 600 miles off Barbadoes, when the infuriated whale turned on the vessel. In the log it reads:

"Thought the whale was going to sink the ship, for at 8 o'clock he came for us head on, and we couldn't get out of his way.

Made all the noise we could and slowed him up but he came alongside and tried to bite a piece out of her. Got him alongside and cut him in. Made just 100 barrels."

During the summer of 1922, the Wanderer, which had just returned from a voyage, was chartered by the Wahling Film Company and put under sail south of Noman's Land, and she was used in many of the stirring scenes from going to sea that day, so the tug left her anchored a mile or so west of Mishaum Ledge bell buoy, in Buzzards Bay. Captain Edwards and his friends returned to the city leaving the whaler in charge of the First Mate, Joseph A. Gomes, a whaleman of long experience. He had only fifteen men as a crew, some of these were working their passage to the Islands. The plan had been to go to Brava and there ship a crew for whaling.

That night a gale arose and by noon the next day the storm had reached hurricane proportions. At the height of the gale, the anchor chain parted, and a second anchor which was dropped, dragged. The steering gear went out of commission, and in this helpless state she was driven upon the treacherous rocks of the island of Cuttyhunk. The entire crew was saved but the vessel became a total loss. Wreckers salvaged provisions, whaling gear, sails, etc from the wreck. The stout, rugged hull of the Wanderer remained wedged between the rocks until a second storm, which occurred September 30th, entirely destroyed it.

Thus ends the record of the last active square-rigged whaler out of New Bedford.

REMINDER NOTES ON GRANGE FAIR

Don't forget to mark your calendar for August 27th and 28th for the Mattapoisett Grange Fair. Make sure your entries are in place ready for the judges by noon on Friday, August 27th. The hall will be open at 9 A.M. Remember, this is open to anyone wishing to exhibit any items produced or prepared by themselves. Youngsters between 9 and 13 years of age are also invited to exhibit items. This is really the only agricultural activity in Mattapoisett and Grange members hope to keep it alive for as long as possible. It is hoped the community will take part in it. Prize money is given through the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture.

A supper will be served at 6 P.M. Friday, August 27th. The hall will be closed on Friday at 12 noon to 2 P.M. for judging and will be opened to the public at 3 P.M.

There will be the usual attractions, including donations being accepted on an afghan, linen tablecloth, basket of groceries and other items. Mr. John Field will be calling on the merchants for donated articles for the Merchants' Auction to be held Saturday night at 7:15.

A THANK YOU

We would like to publicly thank Mr. and Mrs. K. Bradford Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sylvia, Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Everett A. Shekleton, Mrs. Earle Tinkham and the many people connected with the Union Chapel and the Tinkhamtown Helping Hand Society for opening their homes for the Mattapoisett Woman's Club's House Tour which was held August 4th.

We live in an age where distrust and dishonesty seem to often rule and yet these people happily opened their homes to approximately 400 friends and strangers. They put aside their concerns for the benefit of the many philanthropic endeavors of the Woman's Club.

The work of these homeowners was shared by Mrs. Benjamin Brintnall and her busy Tea Committee, Mrs. Phillip Murray and her committee of more than fifty hostesses, Mrs. Joseph Holt and her ticket committee, Mr. Irving Bookstein of the Mattapoisett Inn, who paid for the tickets, and Mrs. Clarence Fountain who as club president organized the many details to make the tour such a success.

A special note of thanks goes to all who toured these homes. The enthusiasm and

Savings Taxation Criticized

SENATOR AYLMEER EXPLAIN TAX VOTE,
DEFINES SAVINGS BANK INTEREST TAXATION

Senator John F. Aylmer (R) Centerville, last week stated his primary reasons for voting against the General Tax Plan, totaling 212.1 million dollars, recently enacted by the General Court and signed into law by the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The Centerville legislator called the measure repugnant, and not in keeping with the major goals of the legislative session as described by the Governor in his inaugural address..... that of tax reform, and additional aid to the cities and towns.

"The tax measure finally enacted by the House and Senate was completely devoid of the aforementioned features of 'reform', and local aid to alleviate local tax rates, which continue to spiral. Some of the features, unfortunately, deleted in Conference Committee were (1) the proposal to increase from 50% to 75% the Commonwealth's participation in the costs of local Veterans Services, (2) The State's assumption (in total) of present assessments now levied on cities and towns for outdoor recreation areas and (3) the exemption of annuity receipts taxation," the Senator stated.

"The Tax Bill represented a 'big fat zero' to the local property taxpayer, and some features were particularly regressive. I cite in particular the new tax levied on savings bank interest, which is in my view, a prelude of things to come. The Southeastern legislative delegation has consistently opposed this ill-advised feature of the bill. I am mystified as to why the Conference Committee insisted on its inclusion in the package, inasmuch as it was deleted at least 4 times by way of amendments offered through debate this year. While the non-working retiree, subsisting solely on such interest is fairly well accommodated with exemptions, a wedge has been driven into an area of taxation previously exempt, and I fear possible reductions in savings deposits, which is the backbone of our mortgage lending market and our building trades industry, which is all we possess economically, aside from tourism.

The general tax measure provided a tax exemption for premiums paid on compulsory automobile insurance, which sounds good, but one must recognize that Southeastern Massachusetts has the lowest rates in this category, and disproportionate credits would be returned to taxpayers based on areas of residency. (In essence, a tax incentive bonus would be the reward for poor driving habits, ironical!)

I fully realize the necessity of tax revenues to finance the programs that the General Court has created, and I have voted for some earlier this year, for example, the increased cigarette tax. However, this session has passed no major spending measures yet, and I still call for more sensitivity to less spending and firmer legislative priorities in the future," Aylmer stated.

"There are many additional features of the tax bill I could not support in addition to these, and thus I voted against the measure. I offer the following explanation

EXPLANATION OF CHAPTER 555 (1971) AS PERTAINS TO TAXATION OF INTEREST INCOME FROM SAVINGS DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS

Under the Governor's Third Tax Program, chapter 555 of the acts 1971, as signed on July 22nd, the income tax base was broadened to include interest on savings bank deposits. A 5% tax is imposed on interest income from said deposits with a $100 exemption for single persons and a $200 exemption for married persons filing a joint return. More specifically, the first $100 of interest income of a single person and the first $200 of interest income of a married couple filing a joint return are excluded when determining taxable income. For a single person to receive interest income in excess of $100 he would have to have $2,000 or more in a savings deposit account earning 5% interest annually and the tax of 5% would apply to the excess over $100. As an example, John Taxpayer has interest income from his savings account (s) of $350, at 5% interest would mean he would have $7,000 in his savings account. In determining his taxable income John would exclude the first $100 of interest income, leaving him with $250 of interest income on which he is required to pay a tax of 5% or $12.50. For a married couple filing a joint return they would have to have more than $4,000 in a savings deposit account paying 5% interest annually to realize interest income in excess of $200. As an example, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer have interest income of $500, at 5% interest this would mean that they have $10,000 in their savings account (s). In determining their taxable income on their joint return Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer would exclude the first $200 of interest income, leaving them with $300 of interest income which is subject to the 5% income tax, or $15.

In addition, no tax will be imposed where the imposition would reduce a single person's income below $3,000 and a married couple's income below $5,000. Social Security payments and any government annuity or pension payments are not included when determining taxable incomes of $3,000 for a single and $5,000 for married persons. If a single person's sole source of taxable income is from interest on savings bank deposits the first $3,000 of interest income is exempt from taxation, plus the additional $100 exclusion of interest income over $3,000, resulting in a total exemption of $3,100. For a single person to earn over $3,100 in interest income he would have to have over $62,000 in savings deposit accounts earning 5% annually. In the case of a married couple whose sole source of income is from interest on savings accounts, $5,000 would be exempt from taxable income plus the additional $200 interest income exclusion for married persons filing a joint return, resulting in a total exemption of $5,200. For a married couple to earn over $5,200 in interest income they would have to have over $104,000 in savings deposit accounts, earning 5% annually.

Chapter 555, as signed, is retroactive to January 1, 1971, therefore the tax of 5% is applicable to interest received from

'Curtain Going Up!'

COMEDY AT OLD ROCHESTER

What can one find to do on these warm summer nights? Well, one group of high school and college students have found an interesting answer. Three nights a week they get together to act, dance, sing, sweat, bat at mosquitos, and anything else that happens to come along. Are they nuts? No, maybe a little tired afterwards, but not nuts. They are merely having fun, learning the ropes of the theatre. They have already produced Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" and are now working on an August production, under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Lee Gauder.

The intricate patterns are now set in concrete and the north end is where the steel frame will begin to rise. This will make a complete contrast to the plain, straight line construction used in the Regional High School. No expense seems to have been spared to create a building of unusual architectural beauty which will attract much attention and comment for its original design.

Capeway League

League champion Capeway Cafe and Linhares' Construction took one game leads in their best two-of-three series with Fish on the Wharf and the Rochester Men's Club. The Cafemen, aided by Denny Akin's big three-run homer, toppled Rochester 11 to 9 in the nightcap of the Center School field play-off doubleheader. Linhares' pounded the Fishermen 9 to 1, scoring seven runs in the last two frames. Mike Brito's single and outfield error enabled Linhares' to break open a tight 2 to 1 game. Three runs tallied on Mike's 6th inning shot to right center. Linhares' then added four more markers on five consecutive base hits in the 7th to win the opener easily.

The Capeway-Rochester meeting was a lot closer. Rochester jumped to a 2 to 0 lead in the 2nd inning and led 5 to 4 in the fourth frame before Capeway's big bats began to explode hits all over the park to take the lead. Jimmy Correia, although hit hard by the losers, picked up the win in a route-going effort. Jerry Costa, who also homered with a mate aboard, took the loss. Bill Sherman hurled Linhares' victory, effectively throttling the Fishermen's bats on a neat six-hitter. Jim Macomber lost it for Fish-on-the-Wharf.

Capeway captured the league crown in a special play-off with Fish on the Wharf, a 16 to 11 victory last Wednesday. Linhares' took third spot by stopping Rochester 8 to 3.

The two series resume Wednesday night at 6 P.M. at Center School and in Rochester. At Center School, Rochester hosts Capeway. Meanwhile, Fish on the Wharf tangles with Linhares' in Rochester. Should Capeway and Linhares emerge victorious, they will begin their best 3 out of 5 series next Sunday afternoon at 5:30 at Center School field.

If Rochester and Fish on the Wharf square their series with wins on Wednesday, then third and deciding games will be played on Sunday at the Center School as follows:
Linhares vs Fish on the Wharf, 4 P.M.;
Rochester vs Capeway, 5:45.

Should either Fish on the Wharf or Rochester win (and the other lose) to force a third and deciding game, it will be played at 5:30 at Center School. The final play-off series will then start Wednesday at Center School, starting time 6 P.M.
